

Registering Your Computer on the HLS Wireless Network

IMPORTANT NOTE:

We recommend that you do the following things BEFORE connecting to the HLS Wireless Network.

- Make sure the administrator account has a strong password on your computer.
- Make sure you have securely patched all security updates for your operating system. (i.e. http://www.windowsupdate.com/)
- Make sure you have virus protection installed and updated on your computer.
- Be prepared to restart your computer.

- 1. You will need to turn on your computer, check that your wireless card is turned on, and ensure that it has been enabled.
- Click on the wireless icon to choose a network. The wireless icon generally appears in the bar on the upper right on Macs, while it appears on the bar on the bottom right on Windows computers. Connect to the "Harvard University" network.

- 3. Open a web browser of your choice.
- 4. This will automatically bring you to https://autoreg.fas.harvard.edu/index.html. If the autoreg page does not automatically appear, try to navigate to another website on the internet. When it attempts to go to that page, the autoreg page should appear. and the following screen will appear:
